ARMED NEUTRALITY

necessary legislation of the session impossible, at a time when the need for it was most pressing and most evident. The bill which would have permitted such combinations of capital and of organization in the export and import trade of the country as the circumstances of international competition have made imperative—a bill which the business judgment of the whole country approved and demanded—has failed.

Some of the Failures.
"The opposition of one or two senators has made it impossible to increase the membership of the interstate commerce commission or to give it the altered organization necessary for its efficiency."

"The conservation bill, which should have released for immediate use the mineral resources which are still locked up in the public lands, now that their release is more imperatively necessary than ever and the bill which would have made the unused water power of the country immediately available for industry have both failed."

"The appropriations for the army have failed, along with the appropriations for the civil establishment of the government, the appropriations for the military academy at West Point, and the general deficiency bill. It has proved impossible to extend the powers of the shipping board to meet the special needs of the new situation."

Unanimous Consent.
"It would not cure the difficulty to call the 54th Congress in extraordinary session. The paralysis of the senate would remain. The purpose and the spirit of action are not lacking now. The Congress is more definitely united in thought and purpose at this moment, I venture to say, than it has been within the memory of any man now in its membership. There is not only the most united patriotic purpose, but the objects members have in view are perfectly clear and definite. But the senate cannot act unless its leaders can obtain unanimous consent."

"Its majority is powerless, helpless. In the midst of a crisis of extraordinary peril, when only definite and decided action can make the nation safe or shield it from war itself by the aggression of others, action is impossible."

Target for Enemies.
"Although, as a matter of fact, the nation and the representatives of the nation stand back of the executive with unprecedented unanimity and spirit, the impression made abroad will, of course, be that it is not so, and that other governments may not act as they please, without fear that this government can do anything at all. We cannot explain. The explanation is incredible."

"The senate of the United States is the only legislative body in the world which cannot act when its majority is ready for action. A little group of wilful men, representing no opinion but their own, have rendered the great government of the United States helpless and contemptible."

An Obsolete Law.
At the same time the president authorized the further statement that what rendered the situation even more grave than it had been supposed that it was, was the discovery that, while the president under his general constitutional powers could do much of what he had asked the Congress to empower him to do, it had been found that there were certain old statutes as yet unrepealed which raised insuperable practical obstacles and virtually nullified his powers."

The old law referred to by the president was adopted by Congress in 1819, and referred to the resistance of American merchantmen against the attacks of privateers and pirates, but excluded from vessels which might be so attacked: "a public armed vessel of a nation in amity with the United States." Technically Germany is not at war with the United States and submarines are "public armed vessels" of Germany.

END OF FILIBUSTER

ed, three, Gallinger and Goff, Republicans, and Gore, Democrat, were absent on account of sickness. Senators Lippitt, Republican, and Johnson, of Maine, and Smith of Arizona, Democrats, were absent from the city. Senator Culberson, Democrat, did not reach the capitol in time to be recorded.

Hours before the end senators who fought throughout the night to break down the filibuster conceived a way to thwart La Follette's well laid plans to occupy the center of the legislative stage at the climax of the bitter fight. Its execution brought the session to a dramatic end, with La Follette fighting vainly for a chance to deliver a speech on which he had worked many days. He saw friends of the doomed legislation inflict the death blow which he planned.

Timing his opportunity to the minute, Senator La Follette entered the senate chamber shortly after nine o'clock in the morning, prepared to take the center of the stage for the last act of the tragedy. When the moment he had chosen arrived he addressed the chair, but Senator Hitchcock prevented his recognition.

The forensic struggle which ensued, seldom, if ever, had been equalled in the history of the senate. Voices were strained to shrieking, threatening fists were shaken at the presiding officer, while the crowded floor and galleries looked on breathlessly. But the incident soon passed without violence. The chair recognized Senator Hitchcock and La Follette's opportunity was snatched away.

Ten minutes before the end Senator Hitchcock had made his last appeal for unanimous consent for a vote on the bill. La Follette objected.

The Nebraska senator, prefacing his closing remarks with a portion of President Wilson's address to Congress asking the authority about to be denied, solemnly said:

"It is unfortunate and deplorable that 12 men in the senate of the United States have it in their power to defeat the will of 75 or 80 members, by one of the most reprehensible filibusters ever recorded in the history of any civilized country."

Senator Hitchcock paused while his words echoed through the chamber. La Follette stolidly glared toward the Nebraskan, who presently added that perhaps he should apologize for the violence of his words.

"You are perfectly safe," La Follette returned without rising from his chair. "No one can answer you."

No one did, for the hour of noon had struck, and the 54th Congress was dead.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

The slogan of the new Overland car is: "More miles for less money in comfort, class, speed and security." The Midland garage—see ad in this issue—is local agent for this car and is giving demonstrations. Call up the garage and if you contemplate business, you may have a joy ride.

MEASURE AIMS TO SAVE CREDITORS

BILL INTRODUCED ABOLISHING DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENTS OF INSTRUCTION

Special to the Bonanza.
CARSON CITY, Mar. 5.—The last day for introducing bills saw 24 in the senate and 32 in the house. There will be many more this afternoon. The Nye county delegates offered a bill providing for the reorganization of defunct banks. It is aimed at the State Bank & Trust Company situation for the protection of creditors when a decision in the case is handed down.

Mr. Bell offered a bill providing that all flumes, sluices or other water ways carrying poisonous matter shall be fenced. Mr. Ackerman offered a bill providing for the establishment of a state smelter. It provides for a bond issue of $500,000 for a smelter to be under the control of a board of five appointed by the governor. Bond indentures are taken care of by 70 per cent of the returns and the remaining 30 per cent to go for upkeep. Mr. White introduced a bill providing for a tax on mail order house proceeds in this state.

The Lyon county delegation introduced a bill providing for the abolishment of deputy superintendents of public instruction and making principals and superintendents act in that capacity. Mr. Thatcher introduced a bill making the lieutenant governor ex-officio state bank examiner without additional salary.

BOARD IN SESSION

The county commissioners are in regular session today. The greater portion of the day was spent in passing upon bills.

WORST STORM OF THE WINTER IN BOSTON

(By Associated Press.)
BOSTON, Mar. 5.—New England is in the grasp of one of the severest snowstorms of the winter. Six inches of snow has fallen in Boston, and is increasing.

VILLA DEAD AGAIN SAYS ONE REPORT

(By Associated Press.)
EL PASO, Texas, Mar. 5.—One faction of the Villa junta is authority for the statement that Villa has died from pneumonia in the mountains near San Andres. The other faction says this report is given out to cover Villa's movements and it is added that as Villa is short of ammunition he is unable to carry out an offensive. For the same reason, Carranza troops in the north are said also to have abandoned the offensive.

VIOLENT ATTACK VERDUN FRONT

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, Mar. 5.—The Germans violently attacked on the Verdun front. Repeated attacks failed under French fire though north of Caurieres Wood the attackers obtained a foothold on advanced positions. The German losses were heavy.

WILL NOT WRONG OR INJURE ANY

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 5.—On the submarine warfare, President Wilson, in his inaugural address, said: "We have been deeply wronged upon the seas, but we have not wished to wrong or injure in return. We have retained throughout the consciousness of standing in some sort apart, intent upon an interest that transcends the issues of war itself, as some of the injuries done us have become intolerable, have still been clear that we wished nothing for ourselves, that we are not ready to demand for all mankind—fair doing and justice."

KISSLESS COURTING IN CHOOSING A WIFE

(By Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Mar. 5.—Kissless courtships may be started by Dr. Charles J. Kurtz, in an address on "how to choose a wife." He said the way to propose is not "will you be mine?" but, "are you willing to be the mother of my children?" Before propounding the question young women should be studied, and the intellect should direct love, instead of sentimental impulses.

FAGAN TRIAL BEGINS IN DISTRICT COURT

Charles Fagan, indicted by the Nye county grand jury on the charge of gross misdemeanor, was placed on trial this morning before Judge Averill in the fifth judicial district court.

A jury is being empaneled. It consists largely of business and professional men of Tonopah. District Attorney Johnson is prosecuting and the defendant is represented by Attorney Hamilton. Interest in the case caused the courtroom to be thronged today.

PERSONAL

CARL FEUTSCH and Joe White were visitors to Goldfield today.

A. L. LIDWELL, of Rhyolite, is a visitor to Tonopah.

MRS. A. B. MILLETT, of Millett, is registered at the Mizpah.

J. M. FENWICK, a Goldfield broker, visited Manhattan yesterday.

WILL MCCARTHY, the mining man, left this morning for Reno, where he was called on business.

I. TASEM, the jeweler, returned from San Francisco this morning where he had been purchasing jewelry stock.

DEL HAMMOND and Mike Cahalan were visitors from Goldfield yesterday.

M. H. HOWE, secretary of the Goldfield Consolidated Mines company, motored over to Tonopah last evening.

MUNKRO S. BROWN and his sister, Mrs. Sam Candless, motored over from Goldfield last evening for a Mizpah dinner.

J. M. GILFOYLE and wife, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Tait and Miss Kelly, motored south to Lida Sunday, returning in the evening.

DR. D. A. TURNER and wife, of Goldfield, were visitors to Tonopah yesterday afternoon.

TOM DWYER, former manager of the Wells-Fargo company in Tonopah and hand Salt Lake, is recuperating at his home in Napa.

L. L. MUSHETT, mining man of Manhattan, is in Tonopah on jury duty.

F. S. HUNT, the Tonopah and Goldfield merchant, autowed over from the gold camp today. He was accompanied by J. A. Houlan.

JAMES ROBERTSON, prominent broker of Tonopah, who had been in Reno for the past several days, returned on this morning's train.

FRANK ALDEN, a pioneer millwright of Tonopah, after seven years' absence, returned to this city on this morning's train and will shortly go to Tybo, where he will be employed by the Louisiana Consolidated Mining company.

L. R. ROBINS, the field engineer for the Tonopah Belmont Development company, who had been at Chinese Camp, California, supervising the taking over of the famous Shawmut gold mining property for the past three months, returned to Tonopah today.

VERY APPROPRIATE

A sign in the Cobweb saloon is very appealing these days. It reads: "White Caps cocktail; with a Morning Glory Chaser." This is not a decoction in which to drown sorrow but to embellish rejoicing over the upward trend of the market.

BRITISH ADVANCE ON TWO SECTION

(By Associated Press.)
Again the British have advanced on the right and left wings on the Somme and Ancre regions of France. On the left flank, east of Gommecourt, the Germans gave up ground over a front of two miles to an average depth of 1200 yards, while on the right flank east of Bouchavenes, an attack gave the British terrain on a front of 1200 yards.

In the Meuse district the Germans north of Elix, in an attack preceded by a heavy bombardment, succeeded in entering French trenches, but were driven out in a counter attack. Reciprocal bombardments especially severe east of the Meuse in the Bois Caurelles sector have taken place.

Along the Russian front and in Rumania, no fighting of moment is taking place. In the Austro-Italian theater, an Austrian attempt to storm Italian positions east of Gorizia was frustrated, according to Rome.

With the important town of Hamadan already in their possession, the Russians are keeping up their offensive against the Turks in Persia. Eighty miles northwest of Hamadan they have captured the villages of Bijar and Khanakali.

AMUSEMENTS

LIBERTY THEATER

Look, here they are again, the day of all days, when both young and old forget everything except going to the Liberty to see their old friends, Kolb and Dill, in a five reel comedy entitled "The Bluff," which is a scream. Louis and Mike together with a young millionaire who is in love, visit New York and there by bluff, interest Wall street in a formula which they use for manufacturing gold out of baser metals. Do not let anything keep you away from the Liberty tonight for you will surely enjoy seeing the ending of Mike, Louis and the formula, also the winning of a wife by the young millionaire in New York.

Mutual Weekly, showing the Cuban revolution; Bernstorff sailing; naval guns for liners, and many other late events.

Tomorrow: Another big show, Robert Warwick and Mollie King, in a five-reel feature "All Man." Remember "The Escape" Wednesday and Thursday, produced by D. W. Griffith, with same cast as "The Birth of a Nation." Mr. R. F. Hubbard was awarded the child's auto Saturday night and can have same by calling at the theater. The Judge were Bert Pollard, William McAuliffe and Henry James.

The Kolb & Kill film did not arrive today, but there will be a six-reel film equal to the best offered.

BUTLER THEATER

Do not miss the concert which is to be given at the Butler tonight during the first show, by our new four-piece string orchestra, composed of the four artists, Julius Goldsmith, violin; "Dutch" Parker, viola; Herman Albert, cello, and Fred Thomas, piano—each a master on his instrument. A fine musical program has been carefully selected, and it will be a real treat to all music lovers.

"The Dollar and the Law," which is the feature picture, is a five-reel Vitaphone production, starring the dimpled darling of the screen, Lillian Walker. This picture has the commendation of the American Bankers' Association, and is believed by this association that the story, which abounds with disguised arguments for thrift, will be the means of carrying a great message to the public. The story was written by the internationally famous story teller, Irvin Cobb.

Do not miss tomorrow's picture, "The Parson of Panamint." A wonderful story laid in Death Valley, with which all Nevada is so familiar, and which has been read by millions of people when it came out in the Saturday Evening Post. Do not forget that on Wednesday, "The Jockey of Death," the greatest circus story ever produced upon a screen, will be shown.

SHOWING IN NORTH STAR

On the 1050 level of the North Star the vein is breaking $19 on car samples and on the 1133 it runs $28. In both headings the gold proportion is above normal.

AIR HOIST WORKING

The compressed air hoist on the 1335 level of the new shaft of the Midway Consolidated Mining company is now in operation and ore from the winze is going to the bins.
